"Everything in your life is a gift. Sometimes, it may not be the gift you want, but you realize that your challenges are a new beginning." - Shilo

On February 19, 2007, SSG Shilo Harris was patrolling an infamous southern Iraqi roadway when his Humvee was struck by an IED. Moments later, three members of his crew were dead and Shilo had sustained severe injuries that would alter the course of his life. For forty-eight days he lay trapped in a medically induced coma, after which he had to come to grips with becoming a man utterly changed.

Through more than sixty surgeries, countless hard decisions, and the unwavering devotion of the family who would not leave his side, Shilo discovered that he was being reshaped—within and without—into the person he was meant to be all along. His inspiring story will move you and motivate you to live boldly in the face of fear and trust God to pull you through the toughest of times—no matter what.

Over the course of the past few decades, Allen West has had many titles bestowed on him, among them Lt. Colonel, U.S. Representative, "Dad," and Scourge of the Far Left.

He rose from humble beginnings in Atlanta where his father instilled in him a code of conduct that would inform his life ever after.

Throughout his years leading troops, raising a loving family, serving as Congressman in Florida's 22nd district, and emerging as one of the most authentic voices in conservative politics, West has never compromised the core values on which he was raised: family, faith, tradition, service, honor, fiscal responsibility, courage, freedom.
